

Aquantis was awarded the order to design, manufacture, deliver and commission a complex pilot unit for treatment of an oil-water-compound.

Due to the complex project requirements, ceramic membranes were used. A specific focus of this plant is the efficient plant equipment for remote control.

